Shopify HR

Marylou,

While attending CUSEC, I spoke with some of your fantastic recruiters, and was encouraged to apply for internships at shopify.com/interns for a position during Summer 2019.

I've had a few friends work at Shopify as interns, developers and managers; they've all come away (or currently remain with) positive impressions of the company, culture, and people. Shopify seems to be leading the way in friendly, human-centric workplaces.

My areas of interest are varied, and after a year of technology consulting, I'm looking to work on a team developing an internal product. UI, UX, backend, frontend, infrastructure, data streams and lakes... I'm up for a challenge. I have applied for every position where I have either past experience or a keen interest in learning more, and this cover letter will appear on every submission.

Thank you for your time and consideration,

Ryan Fleck

P.S.

My Developer Internship Challenge can be found at the following links. I've worked quite hard to fit it in alongside school. Didn't quite get to finishing my GraphQL implementation, so I met the requirements and tested for durability.
